What's new at SEA?

Recent studies show that adults learn more proficiently when they can associate their personal life experiences to their training, when learning sessions are participatory and the topics are relevant to their lives. Because adult learners are goal oriented, they appreciate classes that have clearly defined objectives and help them to attain their own goals. Ultimately, adult learners prefer facilitation rather than dictation.

With these adult learning theories in mind, the professional development at SEA will encourage audience participation with smaller group discussions that promote greater interaction with peers.

Premier Education...Meaningful Networking...Exhilarating Adventures

At SEA, the learning and networking does not end with the formal sessions. SEA is designed to promote professional and personal growth, to encourage networking among the attendees and to have fun. Join us as we experience the world class Secrets St. James Resort and explore the beauty and charm that is Montego Bay, Jamaica.
